BRUTAL MURDER.

Preacher Who, After Having Shown Him Kindness, Struck Down with an Ax.

Columbia, S. C., June 27.—Rev. Patrick Chambers, a Baptist preacher, and a gentleman of the highest standing, a man of influence as a public-spirited citizen, was slain by his son-in-law last night in his home, at Hally Spring, Oconee county.

The weapon used was an axe and the killing was of the most brutal character.

For years Mr. Chambers has been supporting Daniel Roach and his family. The son-in-law would do no work. He has been in trouble several times, and the preacher paid him out.

Last night Mr. Chambers protested against Roach's continued idleness, telling him he should go to work. The young man became infuriated, went into the yard, got an ax, and crushed Mr. Chambers' head. He has been arrested, and the feeling against him is very high.

Pritchard, of Chatanooga, Tenn., from the University of Tennessee, was re-elected editor of The Journal by a good majority over G. H. Terriberry, of New Orleans, Tulane University, and Nathan Elliot, of Lexington, Ky., University.

YALE VICTOR OVER HARVARD.

THE SONS OF ELI WIN THE 'VARSITY RACE.

When The End of the Four Mile Struggle Was Reached the Shells Were Less Than a Length Apart.

New London, Conn., June 27.—Yale won the 'varsity race with Harvard this evening by less than a length in the last 100 yards of the four-mile struggle. It was one of the most beautiful contests between the crews of the two universities ever seen on the river.

From the sound of the referee's pistol until the finish it was anybody's race. Harvard got the best of the start and was slightly ahead in the first mile, then Yale pulled to the front. Harvard spurted and the boats were even. Then the Crimson shell was a bit ahead and at three-mile mark it seemed as if Harvard would be victorious, but the awful pace was telling on the Cambridge boat. Yale came up alongside again and along the line between rows of yachts that flanked the line it was absolutely an even thing.

The shells entered the finishing mile with beautiful water conditions between the long lane of yachts, and it remained for this mile to afford the most spectacular contest seen on the Thames for many a year. With guns booming and sirens shrieking the two boats swept down the line. Harvard was still ahead, but Yale was clinging to her close. It was not until the three and a half flags were within hailing distance that Chittenden, the Yale covswain, called on his men for a mighty effort. Up went the Yale stroke and up crept the Yale shell. Harvard tried to respond and her men answered the call heroically, but the sons of Eli tore along in a style that was maddening for Harvard's supporters. The three and a half mile point found Yale again in the lead. She was never headed. Indeed with Harvard never letting down for an instant, Yale took on strength and the Yale men began to steal away by feet. It was nothing but Yale after this and became the generous proportions of a length. Then it was one length and open water appeared for the first time. It was the old story of a Yale crew with skill and endurance to stay in the last stages of the long journey. Yale's victory was one of a scant two lengths. The time on account of the low stroke rowed, was slow. The official time was Yale, 23:37; Harvard, 23:45.

The end found Goodell, the bow oar in the Harvard shell in a state of collapse. It was necessary to lift him from his seat into the launch. In the Yale shell Stroke Cameron, too, was in distress, but he was able to help himself to the Yale launch. The other oarsmen were strong and in good condition.

The freshman race and the four-oar contest preceded the big contest of the day. In the freshman eights Yale took the lead at the start and was never headed. The time was: Yale, 10:27 4-5; Harvard, 10:48.

Harvard won the four oars easily, crossing the line in 11:49 1-5, six lengths ahead of Yale. The time of Yale was 12:09 1-5.

Country Homes Improving.

North Carolina Baptist.

One of the best signs in connection with the home life of our people is the improvement which is so marked in the surroundings and furnishings of the average home in the country. We have closely observed this for the past ten years and this improvement is gratifying. Bare floors are giving place to carpets and matting; silent walls are being made to speak eternal messages from appropriate pictures, and pianos and organs are on every hand to cheer and gladden and entertain. And whenever there is a gathering of young people in the country home the sweet songs of Zion are sung with a beauty and richness that is wonderful. There is very little of the light and frivolous in their music. And from these homes are coming men and women who are leaders in our churches and important factors in the social life of the country.

This betterment of the homes bears better interest on the investment than stocks and bonds or cattle and lands. It makes home more attractive—gives it stronger holding qualities and a place that the boy and girl are not anxious to leave.

PRIZE CASES DECIDED.

Boats and Cargoes Captured at Manila are Prizes, but Property Taken on Shore is Not.

Washington, June 27. — Justice Bradley, in the Equity Court today, decided the Manila and Santiago Bay prizes. The decision is in favor of the claimants as to vessels captured and as to property taken from vessels so captured and not destroyed; that property captured ashore is not subject to prize; vessels sunk and not claimed as prize and for which bounty was given is prize; that the cargoes or cargo boats and all floating derricks that were captured at Manila are not prize.

The Santiago cases hinges on the Manila decision. According to counsel the claimants, in the Manila case receive a total of $288,000, divided among about 2,000 people, and the claimants in the Santiago case will get in the neighborhood of $500,000 distributed among about 3,000 persons. These figures, however, are not final. These amounts are in addition to the bounties already allowed by the Court of Claims. Admiral Dewey, his officers and men, are the claimants in the Manilla case, and Admiral Sampson, his officers, and men are the claimants in the Santiago case.

The Leprosy Scare.

There is no little alarm over the presence and increase of leprosy in the United States.

Recently eight thousand letters of inquiry were sent out by the government health authorities of Washington to local health officers, city and country physicians and heads of all the hospitals in the country asking information regarding the existance of leprosy and the condition of its victims. Up to the first of last week two thousand replies had been received. They disclose the presence of 275 lepers in the United States and it is believed that the total number in this country is fully 1,000.

Of the cases already reported to the authorities at Washington 75 are in Louisana, 23 in Minn sota, 15 in North Dakota, 5 in Chicago, and 6 in New York.

The Pacific coast, where there is probally more leprosy than in any other part of this country, has not been officially heard from.

Nearly all the lepers in the United States who have been reported are foreigners. Those in Louisiana are mostly Italians.

Leprosy has increased in this country to an extent which, in the opinion of the medical officials at Washington makes it necessary for the federal authorities to assume control of it as it has over other epidemics. As to the probabilities of the spread of this terrible disease in the United States opinions differ widely, but all agree that every possible precaution against it should be taken.

Our closer relations with Hawaii and the countries of the far east, where leprosy abounds, account for the large number of cases of leprosy in the United States, where it was until a recent date almost entirely unknown.

Flesh a Natural Food.

Everybody's Magazine.

There is no doubt of the fact that an excessive use of alcohol acts on the system as a direct poison and produces most disastrous effects, and to eat too much beef deranges digestion and this interferes with thought but further than this there seems to be no grounds for specialization. I have often heard it claimed that eating of flesh tends to turn man into a predatory animal of a carnivorous character—that is, to make a lion, a tiger, or a hyena—but it appears more reasonable to suppose that the lion feeds on fish, because it is his natural food, rather than the eating of flesh made a lion out of him instead of a gazelle. I don't know how many billions of years you would have to feed a gazelle on flesh before it would be turned into a lion; nor could I calculate how many years you would have to feed a lion on cereals before you could turn him into a gazelle.

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

I became afflicted with a severe sore leg and from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000 on two trips to Hot Springs, and local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about decided to have my leg amputated, when a friend induced me to try S. S. S. I began to take your medicine, and in the short space of seven months it has completely and thoroughly cured me. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly. The sore has healed entirely and my health has improved wonderfully. I have already gained 20 pounds.
J. B. TALBERT,
Box 245. Winona, Miss.

Nothing so quickly or surely restores lost strength and vitality to the blood as S. S. S. It is an antidote for the severest forms of Blood Poison, as well as the irritating humors that cause the eruptions and sores that sap your very life and so greatly disfigure you. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other hurtful drug. It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. At the same time your general health improves under the tonic effects of S. S. S., and the skin becomes soft, smooth and healthy. If you are troubled with boils, carbuncles, sores or eruptions of any sort, write our physicians all about your case; don't risk your own judgment when you can get medical advice from experienced doctors free. Frenchman Finds Himself Married to Woman He Never Saw.

Application at Paris to Have Declared Null and Void a Marriage Ceremony Which Occurred in New York.

Comte Robert de Pomereu, deputy of the Seine inferieure department, has been compelled to bring a curious action before the French law courts. He demands that the tribunal of the Seine shall declare null and void, so far as he is concerned, a marriage celebrated in New York April 19, 1892.

On March 4 last Comte Robert de Pomereu received a letter from a woman, whose maiden name was Barier, and who resided in Paris, in which she reproached him with being a bad husband to her and a bad father to their child. Comte Robert was absolutely at a loss to understand why such a letter should be addressed to him. He sent a friend to see the woman, and endeavor to solve the enigma.

This man was shown a marriage certificate in due legal form, which testified that Comte Robert de Pomereu, residing in Fifth avenue, New York, aged 32 years, white, a bachelor, born in France, had contracted marriage with Miss Lizzie Barier, residing in Fourth avenue, aged 31, white, a spinster, born in England. The marriage certificate had been registered at the French consulate in New York.

The surprise of Comte de Pomereu on learning that he was legally married to a woman he had never seen can be more easily imagined than described. It is to release himself from this embarrassing position that he has brought the suit in question. The case will be heard a fortnight hence.

On April 19, 1892, when it is presumed an adventurer married Miss Lizzie Barier under the name of Comte Robert de Pomereu, the real comte was in Heron, near Rouen. He is the mayor of that place, and on that very day celebrated the marriages of two of the villagers.

ENABLES DEAF TO HEAR.

Philadelphia Electrician's Invention Gives Good Results—A Convincing Test.

An interesting exhibition of a simple electrical apparatus by which the deaf are made to hear was given at Philadelphia the other afternoon at the Hotel Walton by the inventor, an electrical engineer only 24 years of age. The test was made on five pupils of the Mount Airy asylum for the deaf and dumb. They were in charge of Dr. A. L. E. Crouter, the superintendent. The experiment was witnessed by Dr. Charles S. Turnbull, Dr. L. Leopold and other ear specialists.

Each pupil listened to words and vocal and instrumental music for the first time, and there was no mistaking their astonishment and pleasure at the sensation. Each was also made to repeat words which Superintendent Crouter pronounced. The apparatus is an elaboration of the telephone, which intensifies sound. The inventor has perfected a smaller machine, which may be carried in the pocket. It has but one disk and may be used unnoticed.

Well Babies Are Good Babies

MOST LITTLE BABIES DIE, either from bowel troubles or from diseases which they contract because they are in a weak and feeble condition from bowel troubles.

Mothers who are seeking the ideal and proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhœa, colic and simple fevers will find LAXAKOLA the great family remedy.

It is the best and most effective laxative for children. BEST because it is safe and made entirely of harmless ingredients. BEST because it is non-irritating and never gripes or causes pain or irritation. BEST because it is sure and never fails. BEST because "Children like it and ask for it."

It is a dangerous thing to give little babies violent remedies that rack and rend their little bodies. DON'T DO IT—give them LAXAKOLA.

A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, and will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it, and it also will check simple fevers, break up colds and clear the coated tongue.

Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhœa, accompanied with white or green evacuations, from the fact that LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of fermentation, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, assists nature and induces sleep.

LAXAKOLA FOR WOMEN. It is a gentle and safe remedy to use during all conditions of health of the gentler sex whenever their peculiar and delicate constitutions require a mild and efficient laxative and tonic, and is invaluable in assisting to relieve obstructions which otherwise would lead to more or less severe pain or illness. It improves the complexion, brightens the eyes, sharpens the appetite, quickens the circulation, removes muddy and blotched condition of the skin and cures sick headache to a certainty by removing the cause. To women suffering from chronic constipation, headaches, biliousness, dizziness, sallowness of the skin and dyspepsia, Laxakola will invariably bring relief and a speedy cure.

At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

STANTON'S JUST FROM GEORGIA

Atlanta Constitution.

SLICE THAT MELON!

This here weather's hard to beat,
Country lane, or city street;
Ain't a-glowin' 'bout the heart:—
Slice that melon!

Hon sun, with perspirin' face;
Scorchin' time in every place;
But we've got amazin' grace:—
Slice that melon!

What's the use o' feelin' blue
When a west wind's fannin' you?
Cut that red, ripe heart in two:—
Slice that melon!

A COOL ONE.

We have received a poem from southwest Georgia which strikes the warm season favorably. Following is an extract:

"I would not rest, with burning soul,
Beneath a weeping willow;
But let me roll
From pole to pole,
With an iceberg for my pillow!
Oh, when they come to lay me low,
Be it upon a bed of snow,
With icicles a-hangin' low,
And an iceberg for my pillow!'

* * *

"Well, suh," said Brother Dickey, "dey may say what hey a mind ter, but dis hot weather hez sho been a blessin' in disguise ter me. Hit run de rheumatism clean outen my right shoulder into my wooden leg; en hit wuz so hot dat de leg kotched fire, en de fire dat consumed de leg took de rehumatism wid it!"

"My fust wife," said the old colored citizen, "wuz kilt by lightnin'; but lightnin' know better dan ter come foun' de one I got now!"

* * *

CHANGE OF BASE.

"Well, yer boy graduated in Greek?"
"Oh yes!"
"An' what he a doin' of now?"
"Splittin' rails in dialect!"

* * *

Appreciation is coming to Meredith Nicholson from the best sources. One of his fine poems appears in The Atlantic for July.

* * *

The literary exchange wants to know why James Whitcomb Riley is silent these days. But he is not silent these days. He is forever singing in the hearts of men.

* * *

THE PHILOSOPHY OF IT.

Well, when the sun is blazin' down,
Jest fan yourself an' say—
You in the country, an' you in the town:
"Purty good weather fer hay!'
Hard in this worl', everybody to please,
With blizzardly skies, or with blossoming trees;
Say to yourself: "If 'was winter we'd freeze!
Purty good weather for hay!"

* * *

An exhange says "they are running the historical novel in the ground." Well, perhaps they'l get it deep enough to bury it.

* * *

The latest prophecy from the west is that the world will be destroyed by fire in July. It certainly looks that way.

Woman and the Burglar.

Philadelphia Record.

The accomplished young woman who for a year or more played the role of burglar in the college community of which she was an intellectual ornament is said to have been impelled to her dishonest practices by a craving for excitement, and not by love of gain. Recently a well-to-do Chicago youth of good reputation who was captured while he was engaged in a burglarious operation said that his sole object was fun. Possibly. It is hardly conceivable that a person of intelligence and expensive tastes would choose general burglary as a gainful pursuit in this day of $1 watches and Arizona diamonds, and with the price of silver hardly above contempt. There are many and pressing calls for money, and the burglar is more liable to find a receipted gas bill than cold cash in the householder's pocket. To the young man of audacity who has no scruples practical politics in cetrain communities offers larger money rewards than the burglar can hope for, with the additional advantage of immunity from punishment.

As a form of excitement, however, general burglary must have its merits. The midnight entry into a strange house must present possiblities so varied as to stir the pulses. The burglar may be so unfortunate as to be mistaken for a late returning husband, and may receive what belongs to that offender before he can explain the situation. If he escapes this he cannot know whether the head of the family will pounce upon him or crawl under the bed. There is less uncertainty as to the course of the lady of the house. Within six weeks there have been 12 cases in New York and its suburbs. In almost every instance the woman has heard the intruder, and, without stopping to think, has attacked him with resistless fury and held him for the police. Then she has fainted. In almost every case the husband has slept heavily until the end of the struggle. Yet Max O'Rell in discussing the question whether men are braver than women appears to believe that they are.

It may be the courage, (or' rather, the rashness) of thoughtlessness that leads women to attack burglars. Most men have studied the problem and decided that a man owes it to his wife and children not to risk his life in a midnight conflict with a short haired and desperate criminal; that it is better to lose a few watches and diamonds and a roll of money than to place a valuable life in peril. Besides, a man knows that the coal man or ice man is bound to have the money if the burglar doesn't get it. Therefore, he is not over-alert to detect the presence of an intruder. He needs all the sleep he can get, too. If a woman should consider them atter in advance she would probably decide that the thing to do would be to hide her head under the bedclothes. But awakened suddenly and becoming aware that somebody is after things which have been presented to her by dear friends, and after the money she has saved for a new hat, woman makes an impulsive dash at the burglar to recover her own. Usually the attack is so fierce and unexpected that the burglar is cowed or stampeded. Probably it would be idle to attempt to educate woman into man's more reasonable views and cautious action. Obviously it is much better that the burglar should get away with all the portable property than that a delicate woman should incur the risk of being struck by a brutal criminal; yet woman's impetuous indignation will rule no matter how well she may be instructed by her natural guide and protector. Or can it be that, after all, women have more courage than the average man?

Nourishment and Progress.

The best nourished individual, other things being equal, is the strongest and most useful; and the best fed nations, other things being equal, are those which lead the progress of the world, says Dr. Wiley in Everybody's Magazine. An abundance of food is to be regarded as the essential foundation for all individual, social, economic, and national aggrandizement. Thus the very condition of affairs which best tends to the highest development in the individual and nation brings them to the verge of disaster, because it is easy when you have enough to get too much. I am not a believer in the doctrine of going away from the table hungry. One object of eating is to satisfy hunger, because hunger is the natural mentor which tells of the wants of the system. Satisfaction of hunger, however, is not gluttony. The dangers from overeating are not so much in the kinds of food employed as in the amounts of them consumed.

The coal man cuts no ice now.

The hobo is never known by his works.

A sugar-coated compliment is often hard to swallow.

Weak coffee should furnish no grounds for divorce.

Everything Considered

In our way of laundering. Nothing too small to receive attention, nothing too big to be successfully treated. The Gate City Steam Laundry does perfect work, because clear, clean, soft water is used. No injurious chemicals are used Skiled help is employed. Great care is taken. We charge ordinary rates but work is much above the ordinary. Medium gloss the thing to wear on Picnic Excursions. In fact it's economy to wear it at all times; dust and soot will not stick to your collars, cuffs and shirt bosoms, to be ground in by your other clothing. Majority wear the gloss, but we give perfect domestic when requested. Try ns.

Respectfully,

Gate City Steam Laundry.

INDEPENDENCE H LL

John Penn's Portrait at Guilford Battle Ground.

It appears from the papers that Mr. Albert Rosenthal, of Philadelphia, is to paint a portrait of Governor Alexander Martin for Independence Hall of that city. It is interesting to relate that a few years ago in 1896, I believe, the space that ought to have been occupied by the portrait of John Penn, amongst the signers of the Declaration of Independence—1776—was vacant in Independence Hall. Upon inquiry as to the cause of this the custodian told me that there was no pictures of Mr. Penn—one of North Carolina's three signers—in existence. It affored me genuine pleasure to correct that error and to inform him that in the portrait gallery at Guilford Battle Ground there was not only a neat engraving but also a handsome oil painting of Mr. Penn, by the artist David L. Clark, of North Carolina. The walls of the gallery contain many pictures, portraits in oil by Mr. Clark and others, engravings, etc., of many men of the Revolutionary period--Washington, Morgan, Col. William Washington, Peter Francisco, the terrible giant of his command, William R. Davie, John Daves, Alexander Martin and many other celebrities of the period, of lesser or greater fame. Here are not only the pictures of men, but also of historic scenes, sites, trees and other objects. Fortunately the very old "Quaker Meeting House" at New Garden—now destroyed—is perfectly represented here by an oil painting by Mr. Clark.

There is an exceedingly interesting story connected with this, perhaps the first oil painting placed within the collection.

Mr. Rosenthal would doubtless find a visit to this gallery and museum very interesting, what would be more so to the city-of-brothrly-love, than this ancient Quaker church of New Garden; and if his visit be on Thursday next, the Fourth of July, he will have the pleasure of hearing an address by Governor Aycock, certainly one of the first orators of the South.

Yours truly,
JOS. M. MOREHEAD,
Vice president G. B. G. Co.

BOARD MEETING.

Applications for Saloon Will be Acted Upon—Petition to be Presented.

Tonight is the regular meeting night of the Board of Aldermen. In addition to the regular routine of business, at this meeting the aplications for license for the various barrooms now doing busines in the city will be acted upon. Unless license is granted tonight the saloons will be compelled to close the first of July. In addition to the saloons already in operation, applications are in for four additional ones. One of these additional ones if granted, is to be located near the new city hall, and another in the room occupied at present by Chouris candy store. One application at this place has already been refused by the aldermen. It is said that a petition will be presented tonight against granting a license this time.

A petition will also be presented to the Board signed by citizens living on Walker avenue petitioning that that street be straightened over the site of the recently burned tobacco building.

TO TAKE TREATMENT.

Physician Bitten by a Girl with the Rabies, Will Take Pasteur Treatment.

Dr. J. B. Williams, of Oxford, passe through the city last night on his way to Baltimore to take the Pasteur treatment. Some time ago Dr. Williams carried a young girl to Baltimore who had been bitten by a mad dog. While in the hospital the girl fought and scratched several persons, among the number being Dr. Williams. The girl afterwards died in great agony, and now Dr. Williams will himself take the treatment in order to be on the safe side.

Dr. Williams is a brother of Dr. B. B. Williams, resident physician of the Keeley Institute this city.

A New Wrinkle.

Mr. Howard Gardner had a new wrinkle in the way of putting up drugs this morning. It was a bottle of capsules, the cap of each capsule being red while the body was the same color as the ordinary variety of capsule. The idea orginated with a firm who wanted to distinguish their medicine from other makes.

Hot weather in the Quaker City makes warm friends.

BLIND TOM.

Greeted Last Night by a Large and Appreciative Audience.

The performance given last night in the Academy of Music by Blind Tom was well attended and was pleasing to the audience present. The music played ranged from the production of classical composers to what is known as "rag time." What was probably a most unusual sight took place on the stage during the evening. When Tom asked that some one in the audience should come upon the stage and play a piece of music, no matter what, and stated that he would immediately reproduce it, Henry Easley went upon the stage and played a classical selection. At the conclusion of the piece Tom reproduced it as he had promised. The unusual feature lies in the fact that Tom is blind, and so is Henry Easley. This rendered it almost a case of the blind leading the blind, and was applauded by the audience.

One of the features of the performance was the playing by Tom of one tune with his right hand, another with his left, and he himself singing a third song. Another feature was his ability to tell the names of different articles held up in the audience, and the letters in the name spelled to him by striking different keys in the piano.

The ladies of Centenary church realized about $30.

BOOK COMMITTEE TO MEET.

The furnishing committee will meet next Monday to begin the work of selecting carpets furniture and so on.

All the work of equipping the library will be pushed now to completion

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

St. Andrews' School Spends the Day at Guilford College

A happy crowd of young folks left on the Winston train this morning for Guilford College to spend the day picnicking there. They were the Sunday school of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Judging by the baskets taken along, they did not suffer for dinner.

A special car was attached to the Winston train to accommodate the picnickers, and the car will be picked up at Guilford station by the train this afternoon.

McKESSON APPOINTED.

Appointment Recorded in Greensboro Today—He Will Take Oath Tomorrow.

The appointment of Mr. Charles F. McKesson, of Morganton, as clerk of the United States Court at Asheville, has been duly filed by Judge Goff, Simonton, and Boyd, and was today recorded in Greensboro. Mr. McKesson is in the city, preparing his bond, and will take the oath of office either tomorrow or Monday. He will assume his new duites the first of July.

To Wed.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage of Mr. A. C. Forsyth, of Greensboro, and Miss Henrietta Clapp, of Brick Church. The wedding will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. R. Clapp, at high noon on Wednesday, July 10.

With the Police.

Jennie Murray, a negro woman living on Davie street, was arrested this morning charged with running a disorderly house.

Arthur Furguson was arrested yesterday afternoon for being drunk and down. He was lying in the railway ditch near the Judge Dick place.

At the Friends Church.

Miss Alice N. Mendenhall made a most excellent talk last night at the Friend's church to a small congregation. She will make another talk tonight at the same place. All are invited to be present.

Money deposited in the Savings Department of Southern Loan and Trust Company will draw interest from that date. Se ad in this issue.

THE CHINESE TEA.

Program Consists of Music and Recitations.

At the Chinese Tea, which is to be given by the Pauline DuBose Little Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. A. W. McAlister, No. 517, West Market street this evening, from 8 to 10 o'clock, the following will be some of the interesting features:

Real Chinese Tea will be served by the members of the society in native dress.

There will be several tables of Chinese and Japanese curios, also a table of Chinese and Japanese scenes. These will be exhibited by some of the young ladies of the society in native dress.

A bright, enjoyable music and recitation program will be given by the young people of the society, and the Greensboro Orchestra will also contribute to the pleasure of the evening.

In the hall, in the [illegible] of two little Japs will be a Free Will Offering box. The public is most cordially invited to "drop in" in two senses of the word.

DEATH OF MR H. K. BRAY.

Brother of Mr. C. A. Bray, of This City.

Mr. H. King Bray, a brother of Mr. C. A. Bray, of this city and Mr. A. B. Bray, of Statesville, died this morning. He has been sick for some time, yet his death was unexpected. He lived here with his brother a short while, then with the Odell Hardware Company., then went to Farmville, Va., with the Virginia Fertilizer Company, where he remained till his sickness. He was about 26 years old and died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Barker, at Semora, N. C. Mr. C. A. Bray and Mr. A. B. Bray will leave tonight to attend the funeral

Fifteen Orphans Here.

Mr. Sam Browne was in his glory this morning. The occasion was the passing through the city of fifteen orphans from the Oxford Asylum, and Mr. Browne met them at the depot and treated them in his usual good manner. One of the children was something of a freak, having five fingers and a thumb on one hand.

The Mayor's Court.

The mayor had a small court yesterday afternoon, only two individuals being before him. They were South Greensboro boys and were fined a small amount for fighting.

Attention of the several committees on the Battle Ground celebration on the 4th of July is called to the fact that next Thursday is the 4th.

COME OUT SATURDAY.

All the Southside Hose Company's runners are wanted out on East Market street Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The team will be organized and runners placed in position they will be expected to fill.

HERBERT REYNOLDS, Captain.

The Effects of an Exclusive Diet

The effect of an exclusive diet on the health could be discussed learnedly and at length, says D. H. W. Wiley, in Everybody's Magazine. I mean by an exclusive diet, one consisting only of vegetables or of flesh, or of vegetables exclusive of nuts or fruits or cereals. All the principles of comparative anatomy teach us that man is omnivorious, and if there were no comparative anatomy the natural tastes of man would lead to the same conclusion. Man is naturally a cosmopolite, and to be able to live everywhere. So that the natural food of man is what he can get. Sometimes it may be flesh only, sometimes only vegetables, and generally all kinds.

There may be cases of individuals who thrive best on an exclusive diet. With those I have no quarrel. If they have been able to find out what is best for them, they have been extremely fortunate. If they have the strength of mind to use this best, they ought to be congratulated. If they have the means and opportunity to get it, they are to be envied. However, they are scarcely to be accorded the right of prescribing and proscribing for all mankind according to the dictates of their own idiosyncrasies. My belief is that health and longevity, upon the whole, are best secured by a mixed diet.

The people who think they have all the trouble in the world are really suffering from vivid imiginations.

No, Maude, dear, the dog watch on shipboard doesn't always keep correct time.

The beggar doesn't have to be weighed in the balance to be found wanting.

Gentlemen—After using 40 bottles of the Vade Mecum Mineral Water, I am prepared to say that for indigestion, sluggish liver, acidity of the stomach, with which I have been troubled for months I find it the most satisfactory of all minerul waters (Lithia, Sulphur and Tate's) I have used. I am not prepared to discontinue its use yet. I have no trouble with the troubles mentioned, yet I want to let the recovery be complete.

I have never fe t better in all my life, and I am hopeful that my cure is complete. However, I will continue the use of the water for some time to come. I allow no opportunity to pass in which I can hely you and humanity.

I though that Harris Lithia could not be excelled, but Vade Mecum knocks it out I am enthusiastic in its praise, and recommend it to all sufferers from above ills Find enclosed check for which ship me a barrel at earliest convenience.

Domestic Economy.

(Louisville Times.)

Men like economy in their domestic arrangements, but if there is one woman most of them fear and despise it is the wretch who has all sorts of receipes for making cheap dishes out of scraps. She comes fluttering into the domestic dovecotes early in the day. "My dear Mrs. B. such a recipe—the cheapest, most dee-li-cious dish imaginable. Any housekeeper can make this salad- An old gum shoe or remnant of mackintosh dressed wifh oil, vinegar and paprika, or cream and lemon juice. I am confidant your husband will go wild over it." She is right. He does. He goes so wild that after the doctor has gone home in the night and he is resting easy he asks who gave the recipe for that salad, and vows to shoot her on sight if he ever gets out agajn. If the men of the neighborhood had their way they would put a large dose of poison in the stocking of his fiend whose shecat wives how to make palatable dishes out of gum, broken umbrellar, furniture polish and soiled awnings.

Too Much of the Negro Question.

Washington Post.

There is no negro question of any great importance that cannot be solved by the very simplest of processes. We have only to treat the negroes under general rules applying alike to all other classes of our heterogeneous population and pay no further attention to them as negroes. Why should we concern ourselves about the negro any more than about the Sicilian, the Malay, the German, the Russian, or the Portuguese? Why should they be segregated and set apart as a specially favored people? It is true that for two or three centuries they were slaves, but they have been free for forty years, and during that period they have enjoyed the same advantages of education and opportunities of improvement that have been offered the whites. It is a fact, indeed, that nine-tenths of the complaint and agitation proceed from negroes who were born free, while the few survivors of slavery are as a rule well contented with their lot. The truth is that a dispassionate examination of their present attitude reveals more of a pretense of superiority than a petition for equality. They make the negro question themselves with an impudent and clamorous demand for what they call "recognition."

The state owes nothing to the negro more than to any other citizen—that is to say, it owes protection of his life and property, equal rights before the law, equal facilities of education. We do not approve—on the contrary, we deplore and denounce—the exclusion of the negro from the ballot-box merely because of his race and color. In our opinion, the illiterate, shiftless, and irresponsible whites make just as bad citizens as do negroes of the same kind. Suffrage laws should not discriminate. They should take note of all disqualifications, mental, moral, or material, and apply them to whites and blacks alike. Under that arrangement—and it prevails in nearly every part of the country—the negro has no excuse for annoying his neighbors with childish reproaches and recriminations. If he wants to become a capitalist, let him set about it as white men have had to do; if he wants to get into society, let him make himself eligible and acceptable to those who control its entrances. He will never become rich by loafing about and living on the wages of confiding cooks and chambermaids, nor will he endear himself to society by sticking out his under lip and looking for a casus belli every hour of the day.

None of this applies to the honest, industrious, and self-respecting colored people, who can be found in hundreds of thousands between the Potomac and the Gulf of Mexico. It applies to the pushing, impertinent, half-educated, and wholly futile negroes who are making all this tiresome noise.

Any one who has read history knows that there is no royal road to wealth, power, greatness, influence for any race or class. The race that rules more half the civilized world today lived in caves like the bears 2,000 years ago. The Latins who rule the rest of it knew the meaning of civilization only a few centuries earlier. Egypt was the exemplar of culture, arts and sciences, when all the Caucasian races were steeped in a hideous and appalling barbarism. But none of these races rose to eminence and domination by complaining of injustice and persecution. What they got they earned. What they received they were entitled to. Nations, peoples, individuals stand or fall upon their merits. Social evolution is not affected by silly outcry and peevish lamentation.

We are weary of this "negro question." It is nonsense.

Shot a White Man.

Danville Free Press.

Last night between 7 and 8 o'clock persons in the neighborhood of Jefferson street were startled by three pistol shots, which rang upon the night air. On investigation it was found that the shooting occurred at the residence of Mr. J. M. Ware.

It seems that last night one of Mr. Ware's young men boarders, Mr. Salte, desired his supper sooner than usual. Mr. Ware told him to inform the cook, Ida Hutcheson, as to his wishes. In doing so the cook launched into a tirade of abuse. Mr. Ware ordered her to stay her tongue, and when she turned on him, ordered her from the house, She stooped and grasped a stick of wood, struck at him. Mr. Ware caught the blow on his arm and slapped the woman. When he did this a negro man, Joe Sargent, who was standing in the yard, fired at Mr. Ware three times, none of the shots taking effect. Jailer White, who lives on Wilson sreet, heard the reports at his home, and telling his wife that he would catch the party, he stationed himself in the Summerfield lot, on Wilson street, suspecting the party would attempt to escape that way. He was not mistaken, for he had been there only a few minutes when he saw the man running down the street. As he cut across the lot and saw Mr. White, he turned and started back the way he had come. Mr. White ordered him to halt, and on his refusal so to do, drew his revolver. The negro then halted and demanded to know why he was arrested. The negro was very defiant; but the jailer kept one hand upon him, while his drawn pistol was in the other, until he met Officer Ricketts, to whom he surrendered the prisoner.

Lots of fellows get hot over a game of freeze-out.

Commanding Attention

There are several ways of getting attention.

You can attract it, draw it, plead for it, ask for it, and command it.

Which would you rather do with your printed announcement?

Everyone who makes things to sell or who does things for money, has something so say to the public.

The way that you say it is as important at least as what you say.

What you say is your part.

The way you sa y it is ours.

Printing that cannot be turned down, mislaid, sidetracked or overlooked is the kind we do.

It is distinguished printing—printing that not only may, but which must be seen—printing which doesn't simply ask, but which demands and commands attention.

Are not these the characteristics you want in your printing? Then come in and talk to us about the next booklet, folder, circular or other business-bringing printing thing.
